COMMITTED FOR CONTEMPT.

Jesse Lewisohn, Who Refused to Testify in New York Gambling Case.

Jesse Lewisohn has again been subpoenaed to tell what he knows of the gambling in New York. Mr. Lewisohn refused previously to testify on the ground that he might harm himself, and he is the first to be subpoenaed under the law which does away with this objection.

Monday he was ordered committed to jail for contempt of court. Jesse Lewisohn, who refused to reply to guestions in the Court of Special Sessions and before the grand jury regarding an alleged gambling-house, was indicted to-day by the grand jury for criminal contempt of court. Lewisohn was immediately arraigned, pleaded not guilty and furnished bond in the sum of $1000. ground that he might harm himself, and Death of Alexander Hogan.

Alexander Hogan, for many years a resident of this city died yesterday morning at St. Mark's hospital, after a long illness. Eleven weeks ago Mr. Hogan underwent an operation for the removal of gall stones, but never recovered from the effects of the operation, and succumbed yesterday morning. He was a native of Scotland and came to this city when a mere boy, having made his home here since. He was a well-known member of the Lathers' union and was said to be the most expert man in his trade in the State. A wife and six children are left to mourn his loss. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afterneon from the family residence, 221 G street.

Swollen glands, tumors, white swelling, sores, pustular or scaly skin eruptions, flabby muscles, brittle bones, weak digestion, emaciated, illy-nourished bodies, are some of the well-known earmarks of Scrofula. Scrofula is inherited. Parents too closely related by the ties of blood, or tainted with consumption or blood poison, may look for signs of Scrofula in their children. The middle-aged often have it, but children are the chief sufferers. Scrofula breaks down the vital forces, and the blood becomes so weak and poor that it does not nourish the body. The remedy in all scrofulous affections must be one that purifies the diseased blood, builds up the weak digestion, increases the appetite and gives new mentan anything like the good B. S. did last winter when I took it. It promotes appetite and the general health in every way, and in addition to being an excellent blood purifier, it adds to its success as a remedy for Scrofula. It did more for me than anything I have used, and with pleasure life's forces. No medicine has won so much fame as a blood purifier as S. S. C.

won so much fame as a blood purifier as S. S., and its tonic effects upon the system are not equaled by any other remedy. It makes the weak, tainted blood rich and strong, and drives out of the circulation all tubercular deposits and morbid matter that cause the glandular swelling, sores, abscesses, tumors and other horrible symptoms that make Scrofula so dreaded and dangerous.
